

Exhibition Launch:

Stitched Voices: Knowing conflict through textiles

Birmingham Voluntary Service Council (BVSC), 138 Digbeth, Birmingham B5 6DR
(6 mins walk from Bullring and New Street Station)
Friday 17 November, 17.30-19.00

We are delighted to invite you to an exhibition launch with a guided tour by the curator, Roberta Bacic, on Friday, 17 November, 17.30-19.00 at the BVSC, Birmingham.

The exhibition - on display until 20 December - focuses on textile narratives of everyday struggles against violence, displaying pieces from Chile, the UK, Zimbabwe, Zambia, Nigeria, Spain, Colombia and Germany.

The aim of the exhibition is to challenge our understandings of what conflict 'looks like' and how it should be explained and explored.

Attendance is free. All welcome. Refreshments served.

For more information contact Dr Jonathan Fisher (j.fisher@bham.ac.uk) or Tweet us @StitchedVoices

