

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Ballymoney and Moyle Times	Page:	12
Date:	07/02/2018	Reach:	3821
		Size:	146
		Value:	284.70

New Anne Frank book launched in Ballymoney

A new book examining the life of Anne Frank has been launched in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank, written by Marjorie Agosin and illustrated by Francisca Yanez, uses poetry and illustrations to imagine her life and voice as she hid from Nazi persecution during World War II.

The evening included a book reading and a personal message from the author, Marjorie Agosin, while Leslie and Robert Gray from Solis Press Publishers also attended.

Guests had a guided tour of the museum's Holocaust exhibition, which encourages visitors to reflect on the history and legacy of the Holocaust by exploring local collections, including those from Conflict Textiles and Millisle Farm.

Textile artist Heidi Drahota, who created several artworks featured in the exhibition, travelled from Nuremberg, Germany to give a talk about her pieces.

Mayor of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough, Councillor Joan Baird OBE, said: "It is fitting that the theme for this year's Holocaust Memorial Day is 'The Power of Words', something which a young Anne Frank knew very well.

"She wrote of the power, beauty and wonder of words and she aspired to be an author and journalist, showing a prodigious talent in her diary writings before her tragic death at Bergen-Belsen concentration camp in 1945.

"Books such as 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank' are incredibly important as they help make sure that Anne's story will never be forgotten and that her voice will keep being heard."

A number of schools' workshops also formed part of the Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Pupils from Ballymoney Model, Landhead and Bush Valley Primary Schools undertook activities led by the curator of Conflict Textiles Roberta Bacic.

Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council thank sRoberta Bacic, Tim Dundee from the Millisle Farm collection, Heidi Drahota, Leslie and Robert Gray and the Good Relations team for all their help in supporting museum staff to deliver the programme.

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Coleraine Times	Page:	12
Date:	07/02/2018	Reach:	5960
		Size:	147
		Value:	645.33

New Anne Frank book launched in Ballymoney

A new book examining the life of Anne Frank has been launched in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank, written by Marjorie Agosin and illustrated by Francisca Yañez, uses poetry and illustrations to imagine her life and voice as she hid from Nazi persecution during World War II.

The evening included a book reading and a personal message from the author, Marjorie Agosin, while Leslie and Robert Gray from Solis Press Publishers also attended.

Guests had a guided tour of the museum's Holocaust exhibition, which encourages visitors to reflect on the history and legacy of the Holocaust by exploring local collections, including those from Conflict Textiles and Millisle Farm.

Textile artist Heidi Drahota, who created several artworks featured in the exhibition, travelled from Nuremberg, Germany to give a talk about her pieces.

Mayor of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough, Councillor Joan Baird OBE, said: "It is fitting that the theme for this year's Holocaust Memorial Day is 'The Power of Words', something which a young Anne Frank knew very well.

"She wrote of the power, beauty and wonder of words and she aspired to be an author and journalist, showing a prodigious talent in her diary writings before her tragic death at Bergen-Belsen concentration camp in 1945.

"Books such as 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank' are incredibly important as they help make sure that Anne's story will never be forgotten and that her voice will keep being heard."

A number of schools' workshops also formed part of the Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Pupils from Ballymoney Model, Landhead and Bush Valley Primary Schools undertook activities led by the curator of Conflict Textiles Roberta Bacic.

Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council thanks Roberta Bacic, Tim Dundee from the Millisle Farm collection, Heidi Drahota, Leslie and Robert Gray and the Good Relations team for all their help in supporting museum staff to deliver the programme.

Remembering Anne Frank

A NEW book, which examines the life of Anne Frank, has been launched in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank, written by Marjorie Agosin and illustrated by Francisca Yañez, uses poetry and illustrations to poignantly imagine her life and voice as she hid from Nazi persecution during World War II.

The evening included a book reading and a personal message from the author, Marjorie Agosin while Leslie and Robert Gray from Solis Press Publishers travelled to Ballymoney for the event.

Guests enjoyed a guided tour of the Museum's Holocaust exhibition which encourages visitors to reflect on the history and legacy of the diary writings before her tragic death at Bergen-Belsen concentration camp in 1945. Books such as 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank'

are incredibly important as they help make sure that Anne's story will never be forgotten and that her voice will keep being heard."

A number of schools' workshops also formed part of the Holocaust Memorial Programme. Pupils from Ballymoney Model, Landhead and Bush Valley Primary Schools enjoyed activities led by the curator of Conflict Textiles Roberta Bacic.

Participants explored the Holocaust exhibition and learned more about the life of Anne Frank. They also crafted 'a friend for Anne Frank' and created their very own craft diary.

Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council would like to thank Roberta Bacic, Tim Dundee from the Millisle Farm collection, Heidi Drahota, Leslie and Robert Gray and the Good Relations team for all their help in supporting Museum staff to deliver the programme.

Terry and Conor Brown look over some items on display in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-60s

Publisher of 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank', Lesley Gray chats to Dorothy Sleath and Shirley McPhillimy at the launch event. CC06-57s

Ann Patterson and Sister Lelia Newan, look at some of the paintings depicting the Holocaust in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-56s

Holocaust by exploring local collections, including those from Conflict Textiles and Millisle Farm, County Down.

The fantastic arpilleras vividly show the power of reflection and response. Textile artist Heidi Drahota, who created several of these artworks, travelled from Nuremberg, Germany to give a talk about her pieces featured in the exhibition.

The Mayor of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council, Councillor Joan Baird OBE, said: "It is fitting that the theme for this year's Holocaust Memorial Day is 'The Power of Words', something which a young Anne Frank knew very well.

"She wrote of the power, beauty and wonder of words and she aspired to be an author and journalist, showing a prodigious talent in her

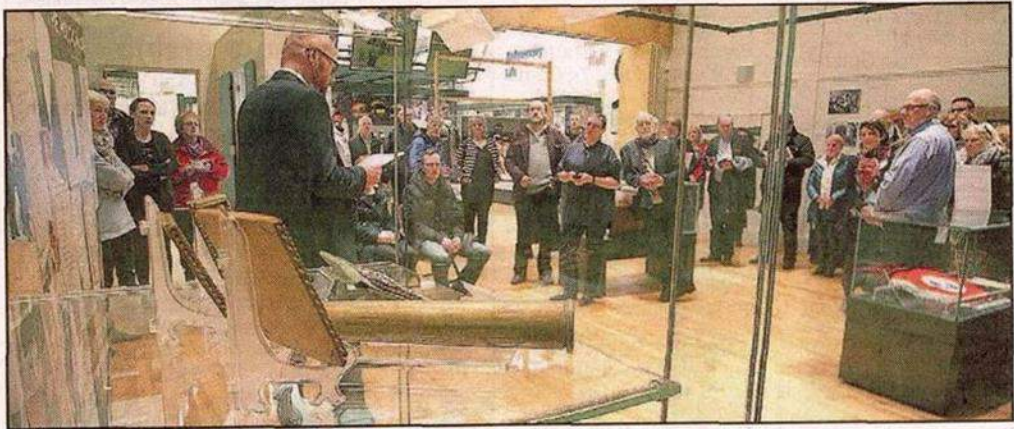

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Northern Constitution (Limavady)	Page:	18
Date:	08/02/2018	Reach:	13275
		Size:	835
		Value:	1085.50

Pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-63s

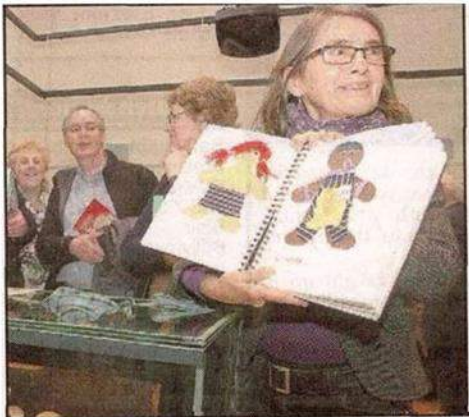

Julie Welsh, Head of Service for Community & Culture; Artist Heidi Drahota; Councillor Darryl Wilson, Roberta Bacic, Curator Conflict Textiles; Margaret Edgar, Cultural Services; Lesley Gray, Editor & Writer and Rachael Garrett, Museum Officer. CC06-53s

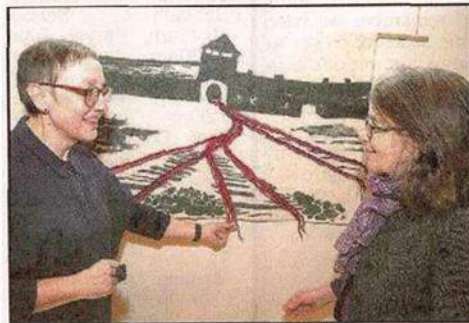

Councillor Darryl Wilson addresses the event. CC06-61s

Client: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source: Northern Constitution (Limavady)
Date: 08/02/2018

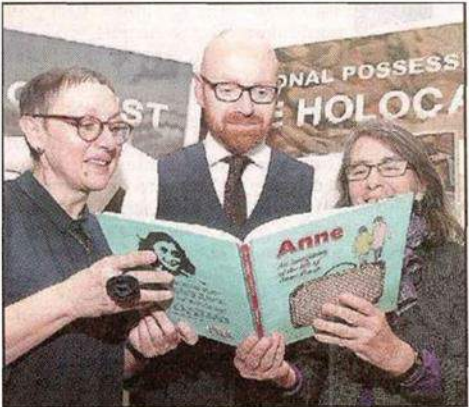

Keyword: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Page: 18
Reach: 13275
Size: 835
Value: 1085.50

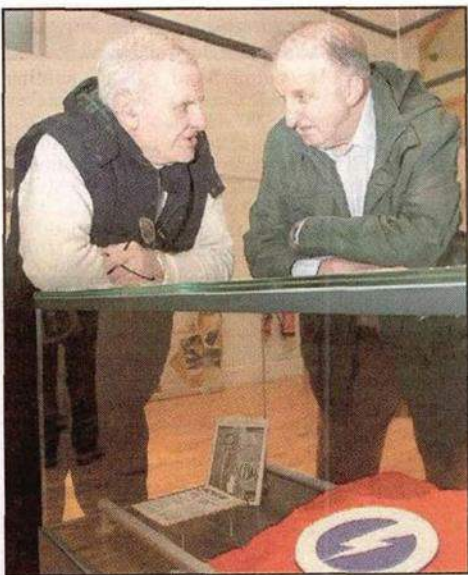

Roberta Bacic, Curator of Conflict Textiles, displays some of the work on display in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-64s

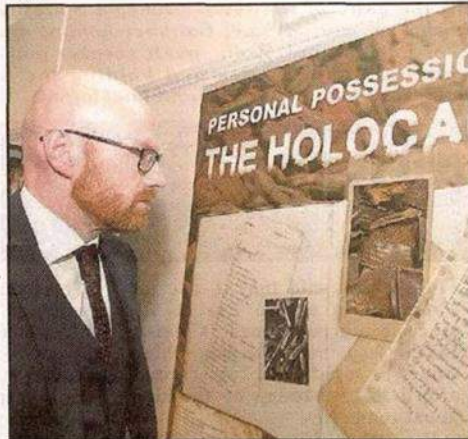

Textile artist Heidi Drahota and Curator of Conflict Textiles, Roberta Bacic, pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-54s

Pictured in Ballymoney Museum for the official launch of the book Anne 'An Imagining of The Life of Anne Frank' along with Councillor Darryl Wilson are artist Heidi Drahota and Roberta Bacic, Curator of Conflict Textiles. CC06-65s

Dr Norman Hamilton and Creighton Hutchinson in discussion at the launch of 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank' held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-58s

Councillor Darryl Wilson visits the exhibition in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-59s

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Northern Constitution (Limavady)	Page:	18
Date:	08/02/2018	Reach:	13275
		Size:	835
		Value:	1085.50

Anne McConaghie and Evelyn Hamilton pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme. CC06-55s

Causeway Coast & Glens Borough Council Head of Service for Community & Culture, Julie Welsh speaking during the book launch in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-62s

Remembering Anne Frank

A NEW book, which examines the life of Anne Frank, has been launched in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank, written by Marjorie Agosin and illustrated by Francisca Yáñez, uses poetry and illustrations to poignantly imagine her life and voice as she hid from Nazi persecution during World War II.

The evening included a book reading and a personal message from the author, Marjorie Agosin while Leslie and Robert Gray from Solis Press Publishers travelled to Ballymoney for the event.

Guests enjoyed a guided tour of the Museum's Holocaust exhibition which encourages visitors to reflect on the history and legacy of the Holocaust by exploring local collections, including those from Conflict Textiles and Millisle Farm, County Down.

The fantastic arpilleras vividly show the power of reflection and response. Textile artist Heidi Drahota, who created several of these artworks, travelled from Nuremberg, Germany to give a talk about her pieces featured in the exhibition.

The Mayor of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council, Councillor Joan Baird OBE, said: "It is fitting that the theme for this year's Holocaust Memorial Day is 'The Power of Words', something which a young Anne Frank knew very well.

"She wrote of the power, beauty and wonder of words and she aspired to be an author and journalist, showing a prodigious talent in her diary writings before her tragic death at Bergen-Belsen concentration camp in 1945. Books such as 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank' are incredibly important as they help make sure that Anne's story will never be forgotten and that her voice will keep being heard."

A number of schools' workshops also formed part of the Holocaust Memorial Programme. Pupils from Ballymoney Model, Landhead and Bush Valley Primary Schools enjoyed activities led by the curator of Conflict Textiles Roberta Bacic.

Participants explored the Holocaust exhibition and learned more about the life of Anne Frank. They also crafted 'a friend for Anne Frank' and created their very own craft diary.

Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council would like to thank Roberta Bacic, Tim Dundee from the Millisle Farm collection, Heidi Drahota, Leslie and Robert Gray and the Good Relations team for all their help in supporting Museum staff to deliver the programme.

Publisher of 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank', Leslie Gray chats to Dorothy Sleath and Shirley McPhillimy at the launch event. CC06-57s

Ann Patterson and Sister Lelia Newan, look at some of the painting depicting the Holocaust in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-56s

Client: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source: Ballycastle Chronicle
Date: 08/02/2018

Keyword: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Page: 18
Reach: 13725
Size: 844
Value: 1223.80

Julie Welsh, Head of Service for Community & Culture; Artist Heidi Drahota; Councillor Darryl Wilson, Roberta Bacic, Curator Conflict Textiles; Margaret Edgar, Cultural Services; Lesley Gray, Editor & Writer and Rachael Garrett, Museum Officer. CC06-53s

Roberta Bacic, Curator of Conflict Textiles, displays some of the work on display in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-64s

Terry and Conor Brown look over some items on display in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-60s

Pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-63s

Pictured in Ballymoney Museum for the official launch of the book Anne 'An Imagining of The Life of Anne Frank' along with Councillor Darryl Wilson are artist Heidi Drahota and Roberta Bacic, Curator of Conflict Textiles. CC06-65s

Client: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source: Ballycastle Chronicle
Date: 08/02/2018

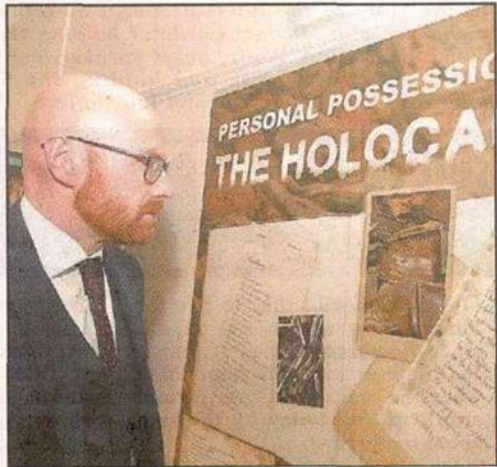

Keyword: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Page: 18
Reach: 13725
Size: 844
Value: 1223.80

Dr Norman Hamilton and Creighton Hutchinson in discussion at the launch of 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank' held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-58s

Anne McConaghie and Evelyn Hamilton pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme. CC06-55s

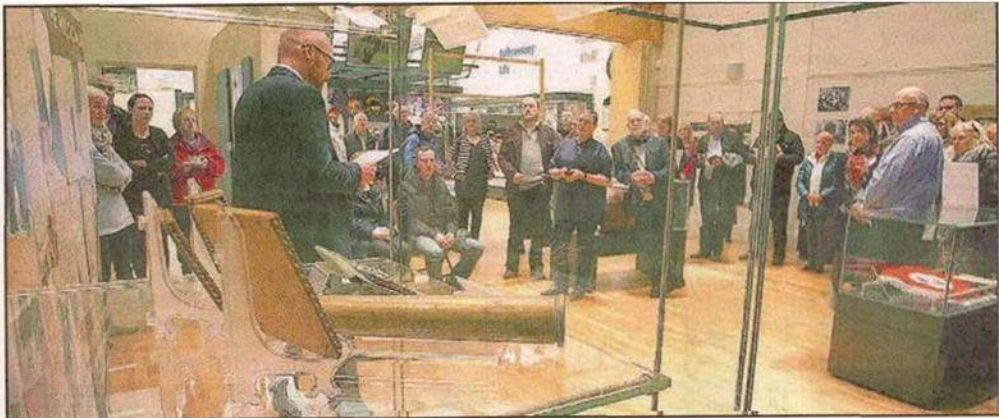

Councillor Darryl Wilson visits the exhibition in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-59s

Causeway Coast & Glens Borough Council Head of Service for Community & Culture, Julie Welsh speaking during the book launch in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-62s

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Ballycastle Chronicle	Page:	18
Date:	08/02/2018	Reach:	13725
		Size:	844
		Value:	1223.80

Councillor Darryl Wilson addresses the event. CC06-61s

Textile artist Heidi Drahota and Curator of Conflict Textiles, Roberta Bacic, pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-54s

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Ballymoney Chronicle	Page:	18
Date:	08/02/2018	Reach:	60000
		Size:	864
		Value:	1252.80

New book launched in Ballymoney Museum during Holocaust Memorial Programme

Remembering Anne Frank

A NEW book, which examines the life of Anne Frank, has been launched in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme.

Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank, written by Marjorie Agosin and illustrated by Francisca Yáñez, uses poetry and illustrations to poignantly imagine her life and voice as she hid from Nazi persecution during World War II.

The evening included a book reading and a personal message from the author, Marjorie Agosin while Leslie and Robert Gray from Solis Press Publishers travelled to Ballymoney for the event.

Guests enjoyed a guided tour of the Museum's Holocaust exhibition which encourages visitors to reflect on the history and legacy of the Holocaust by exploring local collections, including those from Conflict Textiles and Millisle Farm, County Down.

The fantastic arpilleras vividly show the power of reflection and response. Textile artist Heidi Drahota, who created several of these artworks, travelled from Nuremberg, Germany to give a talk about her pieces featured in the exhibition.

The Mayor of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council, Councillor Joan Baird OBE, said: "It is fitting that the theme for this year's Holocaust Memorial Day is 'The Power of Words', something which a young Anne Frank knew very well.

"She wrote of the power, beauty and wonder of words and she aspired to be an author and journalist, showing a prodigious talent in her diary writings before her tragic death at Bergen-Belsen concentration camp in 1945. Books such as 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank'

are incredibly important as they help make sure that Anne's story will never be forgotten and that her voice will keep being heard."

A number of schools' workshops also formed part of the Holocaust Memorial Programme. Pupils from Ballymoney Model, Landhead and Bush Valley Primary Schools enjoyed activities led by the curator of Conflict Textiles Roberta Bacic.

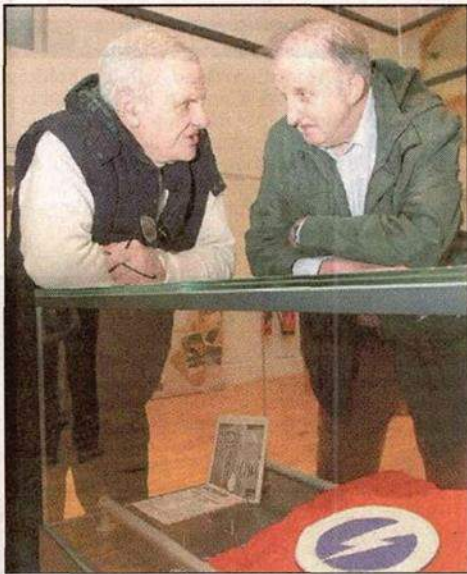

Participants explored the Holocaust exhibition

and learned more about the life of Anne Frank. They also crafted 'a friend for Anne Frank' and created their very own craft diary.

Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council would like to thank Roberta Bacic, Tim Dundee from the Millisle Farm collection, Heidi Drahota, Leslie and Robert Gray and the Good Relations team for all their help in supporting Museum staff to deliver the programme.

Pictured in Ballymoney Museum for the official launch of the book Anne 'An Imagining of The Life of Anne Frank' along with Councillor Darryl Wilson are artist Heidi Drahota and Roberta Bacic, Curator of Conflict Textiles. CC06-65s

Dr Norman Hamilton and Creighton Hutchinson in discussion at the launch of 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank' held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-58s

Client: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source: Ballymoney Chronicle
Date: 08/02/2018

Keyword: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Page: 18
Reach: 60000
Size: 864
Value: 1252.80

Councillor Darryl Wilson visits the exhibition in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-59s

Ann Patterson and Sister Lelia Newan, look at some of the paintings depicting the Holocaust in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-56s

Anne McConaghie and Evelyn Hamilton pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum as part of Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council's Holocaust Memorial Programme. CC06-55s

Causeway Coast & Glens Borough Council Head of Service for Community & Culture, Julie Welsh speaking during the book launch in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-62s

Terry and Conor Brown look over some items on display in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-60s

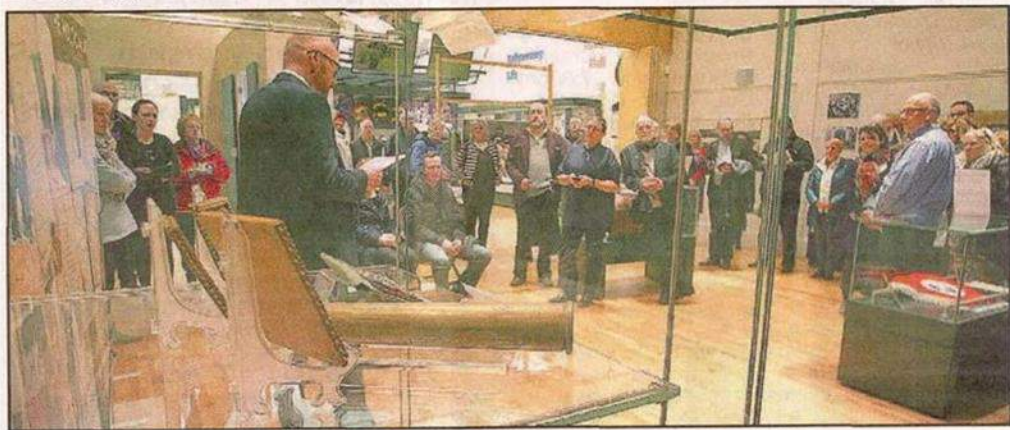

Client:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council	Keyword:	Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source:	Ballymoney Chronicle	Page:	18
Date:	08/02/2018	Reach:	60000
		Size:	864
		Value:	1252.80

Pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-63s

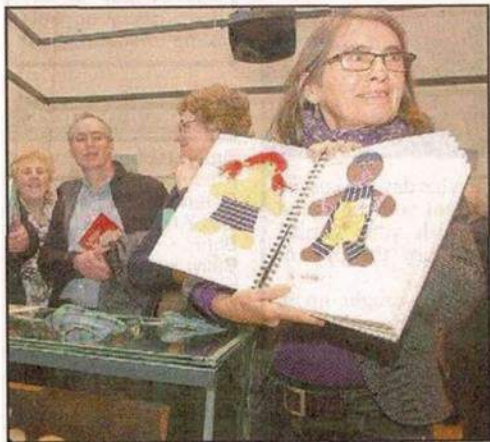

Julie Welsh, Head of Service for Community & Culture; Artist Heidi Drahota; Councillor Darryl Wilson, Roberta Bacic, Curator Conflict Textiles; Margaret Edgar, Cultural Services; Lesley Gray, Editor & Writer and Rachael Garrett, Museum Officer. CC06-53s

Councillor Darryl Wilson addresses the event. CC06-61s

Client: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Source: Ballymoney Chronicle
Date: 08/02/2018

Keyword: Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council
Page: 18
Reach: 60000
Size: 864
Value: 1252.80

Roberta Bacic, Curator of Conflict Textiles, displays some of the work on display in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-64s

Textile artist Heidi Drahota and Curator of Conflict Textiles, Roberta Bacic, pictured at the book launch held in Ballymoney Museum. CC06-54s

Publisher of 'Anne: An imagining of the life of Anne Frank', Lesley Gray chats to Dorothy Sleath and Shirley McPhillimy at the launch event. CC06-57s