

To mark the 20th Anniversary of Women, Peace and Security (UNSCR1325)

Causeway Coast and Glens Good Relations

invites you to a discussion on

Women and the Art of Peacebuilding

30th October 2020

2-3.30pm

This session is the concluding event to our recent exhibition, Conflict, Peace: Our Journey, Our Future. It will look at how art forms can be a tool for encouraging women's inclusion, and perspective in peace processes and as a way to support storytelling, dialogue and cross community relationship building.

It will explore how art forms can provide a way of addressing sensitive issues around conflict and peace and encourage women's participation and engagement. The session will explore how art forms can serve to amplify women's voices and give visibility and recognition to their contributions and efforts to peace.

Inputs will be provided by:

- * Heidi Riley, Adjunct Research Fellow, UCD
- * Anne Carr, Community Dialogue and Women's Information NI
- * Roberta Bacic, Conflict Textiles

The event will include screenings of short films 'Women's Voices, Building Networks' and 'Following the footsteps of the disappeared'

Register with Bebhinn.mckinley@causewaycoastandglens.gov.uk