

Permanent rotating exhibition at Magee Campus Library, Ulster University, Derry-Londonderry, Northern Ireland November 2021

Photo gallery of installation relating to refugees' experiences

This installation is comprised of two arpilleras and objects connected to the film and exhibition Suitcases: Telling Textile Travels / Maletas: Contando Viajes Textiles. The film and exhibition programme was commissioned by Counterpoints Arts (CA) as part of the Platforma 6 festival (1st October – 7th November 2021).

Roberta Bacic with the two arpilleras from the previous installation; rolled and secured with thread, in preparation for travel, storage and the next exhibition. (Photo: Breege Doherty)

Roberta makes a final adjustment to the arpillera En el lado "bueno" de la valla 2 / On the "Good" Side of the Fence 2. (Photo: Breege Doherty)

Materials and objects: The rucksack was used in the film and symbolises the layers of journeys undertaken by refugees. The dolls were created in a related workshop Every Action Counts – Making arpillera dolls. (Photo: Gillian Robinson)

The final installation comprised of two arpilleras - Bienvenida a las personas refugiadas - Identificándose con ellas, En el lado "bueno" de la valla 2 / On the "Good" Side of the Fence 2 – and materials and objects connected to the film and exhibition. (Photo: Gillian Robinson)

Rosina and Roberta discuss events for International Human Rights Day on 10th December. (Photo: Breege Doherty)

(L-R) Gillian Robinson, Research Associate ARK and Conflict Textiles Associate; Breege Doherty, Conflict Textiles; Rosina Doherty-Allan, Magee Campus Library Manager; Roberta Bacic, Conflict Textiles; and Sinead Grant, INCORE, pictured after completing the installation. (Photo: Conflict Textiles archive)

The easel positioned inside the main entrance to the library, directing staff, students and visitors to the installation upstairs. (Photo: Breege Doherty)

The plasma screen in the library foyer, signposting staff, students and visitors to the installation. (Photo: Rosina Doherty-Allan)

Breege Doherty 10th November 2021