

PHOTO GALLERY

Conflict Textiles / Ulster University, Coleraine Campus - Textile Portraits

This exhibition is comprised of 6 arpilleras themed on portraits made by contributors to Conflict Textiles which aim to represent personalities and figures important to culture, art and peace, both in Northern Ireland and beyond.

Some of these represent people who are still alive and others who have left us their contributions as their legacy.

We invite the wider community to visit the display and encounter textile language. We would also want to engage and commission - in the near future - a textile portrait of John Springhill who was a lecturer at Coleraine campus, Ulster University. John Springhill's Special Collection is held in the Coleraine campus library and accessing it will enrich and bring his legacy to life.

General view of the exhibition

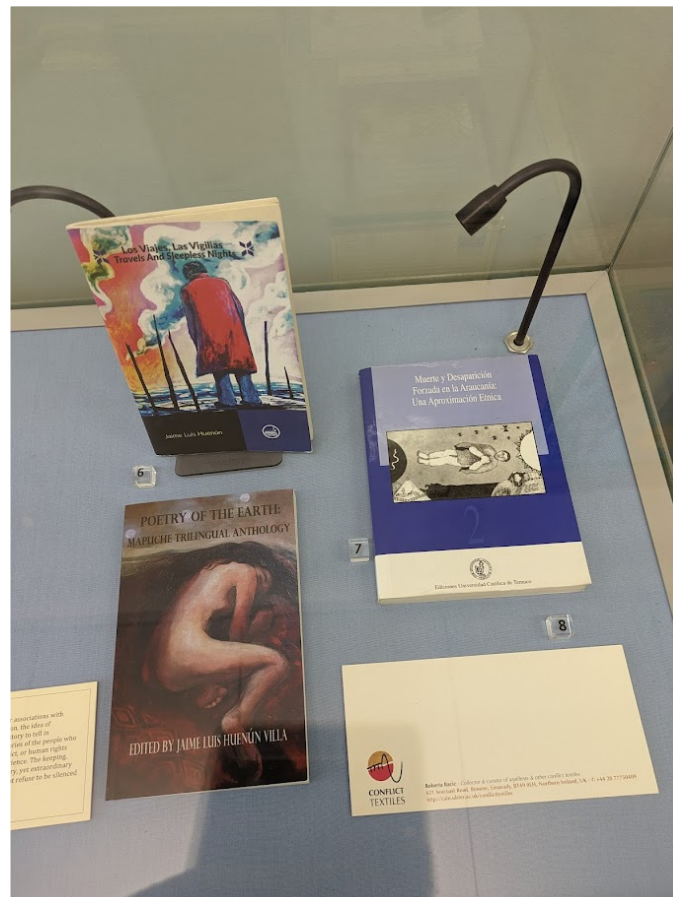

Textile portraits directly related to Northern Ireland relevant characters

Personal memorabilia that links each character to their daily life

Textile portraits directly related to people from Chile

Personal memorabilia that links each character to their professional life