

Image features 'A Homeland Woven in Cloth' - Tatreez embroidery made by Rana Al Hajouj from Anaka Women's Collective, 2026

We are delighted to invite you to a gathering of partners to celebrate the launch of the refreshed 'Inclusive Global Histories' exhibition at 2pm on Friday 3rd July at the Ulster Museum.

This updated display brings together objects and stories from our world cultures collection, alongside the voices and perspectives of the communities who have helped shape it.

At times when shared understanding and respect feel especially important, we hope this exhibition offers an opportunity to explore connections between Northern Ireland and the wider world, celebrate cultural diversity, and foster greater understanding.

At National Museums NI, we believe our museums are safe and welcoming spaces for everyone.

Thank you for your contribution – this work isn't possible without you.

Please email
Triona.WhiteHamilton@nationalmuseumsni.org to let us know who from your organisation would like to attend for light refreshments and music by Monday 29th June.