

Arpillera workshop held at the Chilean Embassy on the 21st August 2015

On the day a small group of interested people from the Chilean Embassy as well as from the wider community attended the workshop that would lead towards further engagement in arpillera narratives in preparation to possible exhibition to take place in 2016.

General introduction to the nature of these textiles and an actual arpillera doll workshop took place.

A few mages from the day were taken by Miren Maialen who was in attendance and has been a close follower of arpilleras since the beginning of our journey in Dublin in 2009

Chilean Ambassador and Consul looking attentively the arpillera that was left at the Embassy since then and will be there until a follow up exhibition hosted by the Embassy takes place in Dublin

Pamela Luque, Chilean arpillerista and another participant look at the arpilleras

Arpillera 'Fin de semana en una población / Weekend in a población', Anonymous. (Photo: Colin Peck)