

WAR-TORN CHILDREN

17 - 28 JULY / 2017

CB1 Gallery - Limerick

Central Buildings, 51a O'Connell Street

An exhibition of textiles, photographs and posters highlighting the devastating impact of war on children, their families and communities.

Mon July 17th. 7pm: Exhibition Opening

A series of lunchtime events are being run in the CB1 Gallery to coincide with the War-Torn Children exhibition. These all start at 1.05pm.

Tues July 18th

How to Make a Solidarity Arpillera Doll, a free workshop conducted by curator Roberta Bacic. The arpilleras are a textile applied narratives with a long history of resistance. Ten are on display in this exhibition.

Fri July 21st

Iraq since the 2003 US Invasion, by Hashim Alhadeedy.

Tues July 25th

Launch of Tell Them Everything, a book by Galway activist and author Margaretta D'Arcy in which she recounts her time in Armagh Gaol in the 1980s and the women political prisoners there. Launch by film maker and scholar Laura Aguiar.

Wed July 26th

Audio-visual presentation of music from Calais Jungle, by Isolda Heavey.

Thurs July 27th

About Syria: Its Culture and Diversity, a presentation by Radwan and Osama Abouhajar.

Fri July 28th

World Music Café and Exhibition Close.

The aim of the War-Torn Children exhibition is to raise awareness of the human impact of war and injustice, and to promote a culture of hospitality and welcome for refugees seeking sanctuary from war and persecution in Limerick. The lunchtime events will give people, businesses and other organisations in the community an opportunity to connect, engage in conversations about war and its impacts, and break down barriers that impede progress towards a better world.

All are welcome. Do drop in!

