Mr Seán Ó hUiginn
Assistant Secretary
Department of Foreign Affairs

Dear Assistant Secretary

This is just to report that, during a visit to Little Rock, Arkansas, on Thursday and Friday last, I had a brief discussion with the President-Elect, Bill Clinton.

The President-Elect was very friendly and warm in his greeting. He mentioned that he had been on a visit to Ireland - presumably during his period as a student in Oxford between 1968 to 1970. I conveyed greetings from Dublin, to which the President-Elect replied that he was looking forward to working with the Government and, of course, to the St. Patrick's Day period.

With best wishes.

Yours sincerely

Dermot Gallagher
