Dear Mr. Fell,

Ref. Enc. Advert for a vacancy.

As you are probably aware, the way in which advertisements are worded can very often affect the type of people who reply. An ad. placed in the Londonderry area with the term 'Derry', is virtually certain to preclude many Protestants from applying, in the case of the Shantallow Area Workshop it could be that this type of advertising has been used in the past and therefore the workforce is comprised of the one section of the community only. Whether or not this is the case I feel that a Workshop sponsored by DED ought not to have an incorrect and politically motivated version of the City's name in their Advertisements. Can some action be taken or should I refer the case to the FEA for investigation?

Yours sincerely,

Gregory Campbell. G. Campbell

SUPERVISOR

for an Audio Visual Department

Intending applicants should have a good working knowledge of photography, developing and printing, slide work, use of a storey board, tape recording techniques, use of video camera, editing, etc.

As this is a new section the successful applicant should be capable of working with a minimum of supervision.

Experience of working in a training environment in industry or/and with youth would be an advantage.

The appointment will be initially for a two year period. Continuance will depend on the success of the venture.
