

Arpilleras and Quilts

1. Yearly Quilt 2005
- Irene Mac William, NI
2. Life as we know it
- Deborah Stockdale, Donegal, 2009
International Women's Day, Derry
3. Home Sweet Home
- Mujeres Creativas workshop,
Peru, 1985
4. Our life in Chile
- Elena Cerón Sandoval,
Santiago de Chile, 2007
5. In the market of the Flowers
- Teresa Amaya Amaya,
Badalona, Spain,
for International Women's Day 2009
6. A look at my homeland from the boat
- Francisca Báez Avila, Badalona, Spain,
for International Women's Day 2009
7. Araucania region in Chile
- anon, Fundacion Solidaridad workshop,
Santiago de Chile, 2007
8. Who carries the external debt?
- F.Ch, Mujeres Creativas, Peru, 1985
9. They will not take our Hope
- anon, Chile, 1979
10. Donegal Hands On arpillera/Quilt

Front panel picture -
Who carries the External Debt?

A big thank you to all involved in making this exhibition possible, especially to
"The Textile Storytellers"

Tel: 028 27664445

This project has received financial support from the Community Relations Unit, OFMDFM and Coleraine Borough Council's Good Relations Programme

Crafts with Love
proudly present

TEXTILES WITH A STORY

Curated By Roberta Bacic

December 4th 2009
10am-4pm
Coleraine Town Hall

“the Eye is the Window to the Soul” - Anon

This display of quilt and arpilleras shows a unique way to express hurt, despair, anger, reconciliation and peace. This project allows everyone in the community to interact and participate in workshops especially put together to help the community to help grow a peaceful and friendly bond between all participants. It provides an opportunity to listen, to speak out and to share. This is a proactive approach which has the potential to stimulate cross community healing processes in our divided society.

Yearly Quilt 2005

Arpilleras that Cry Out Exhibition in Flowerfield, Portstewart

“the Needle and Thread can become mightier than the Gun”

- Deborah Logan

Donegal Hands On arpillera / quilt

The main ethos of “Crafts with Love”

Crafts with Love is a voluntary organisation, now in its seventh year. The group meets weekly at Windyhall Community Centre from 2.30pm - 4.30pm on Mondays. It seeks to provide a neutral and welcoming haven for traditional and modern crafting. The organization seeks to develop cross community interaction and networking, and to foster an environment of cultural respect and equality.

A look to my homeland from the Boat

Alongside the display :

Drop-in Workshops

Guided Tours

Background Music

Opening Remarks by the Curator

Tea and Coffee will be provided

Free Admission

All Welcome