Mr T Gallagher asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what is his assessment of the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service's efforts to resolve the dispute at Enniskillen Fire Station over the display of a photograph commemorating the Enniskillen bomb.

(AQW 1199/08)

The Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (Mr M McGimpsey): The Chief Fire Officer is working closely with firefighters based at Enniskillen Fire Station to find a local resolution to this matter. I am confident that this is the right approach to find an early and mutually acceptable outcome to this issue.
